PRESIDENT LINDLEY'S PICTURE.

CONTRAST OF A GOOD AND BAD ROADS' WELCOME.

Good Roads, More and Better Schools, He Says are What We Need—Meeting the 28th

To the Editor of the Telegram.

I find some opposition in some outside township to the proposition to issue bonds on macadamized roads. They claim all the money will be spent around Greensboro, and the good road system will never reach outside townships. We claim that this is not true. The people of Greensboro are as anxious for the roads to extend to the county limits as they are to have them run through adjoining township.

Why you might ask? They want and need the trade of the outside townships, good roads such as we propose to give, would give it to them Good macadamized roads would make a farm five miles from town worth as much as one in 2 miles with roads, and a farmer 15 or 18 miles from town, with a macadamized road, could haul to town with greater ease and much cheaper than one 5 miles with old fashioned mud roads, and the saving of the wear and tear on harness and wagons will be far greater than the road tax can ever be. Any one can see this if he is not prejudiced against it. The whole argument is on the side of good roads. There is none for the antiquated system. Every farmer or laborer is bound to receive untold benefits from the macadamized system, if we can carry it to completion as we have suggested in circulars that have been sent out.

120 miles carry 8 roads to the county lines, there will be enough money to build 50 miles of branch roads leading in left to these 8 branches so a good road would reach each of the farmers of the county and the other 4th would be from 2 to 4 miles from the main line, not farther.

Voters of Guilford think of it. We must keep up with the procession. Other counties are leaping ahead of us and they are doing it by making macadamized roads, which makes every one prosperous. The great drawback to farmers is in marketing his produce. If he has a good hard road distance counts no figure, but returning from market he arrives at home in a good humor, harness in good condition, horse not jaded and his wife meets him at the door with a welcoming smile and all are happy. Not so with bad roads. He returns with broken harness, jaded horses and out of humor, load too small, did not bring much money, so he arrives at home in such a condition with such a cold welcome by the good wife. Under these circumstances there is nothing to cheer any one.

So let us strive to make each other happy. Good roads, more and better schools, and our county will be happy and prosperous. Our good roads meeting will be held Saturday, April 28th, at 10 a. m., at the court house in Greensboro. We hope to see a house full of people from all parts of the county. We want to talk over the whole matter and see what can be done and see what is best for us Come one, come all.

Respectfully submitted,
J. Van Lindley,
Pres. Good Roads Club.

THE SITUATION NOT IMPROVED.

STRIKERS SEEM PERFECTLY CONFIDENT OF WINNING.

Wide Difference in the Claims of Railroad People and the Striking Members of the O. R. T.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Trains arrive and depart from Greensboro with about as much regularity and as nearly on time as usual, inspite of the strike among members of the telegraphic force. Railroad people do not deny that they feel the effects of the strike in the despatch of business, and admit that the situation is not improved today—if anything it is worse. All passenger trains, except the fast mail, arrived on time today, and it is a common occurrence for that to be late.

Freight trains are delayed more or less throughout the whole Southern system. Railroad people say it is much worse further south and west than in North Carolina. Little difference is seen here beyond the fact that the office force is doing much harder work, Superintendent O'Brien himself taking a turn at the keyboard.

The dispatches this morning say that President Powell, who is now in Atlanta, has a man in charge of each division, and with his assistant, Mr. A. B. Stillwell, in Chattanooga, keeps posted by hourly bulletins from each division. Mr. Stillwell issued the following bulletin last night:

"Order of Railroad Telegraphers,
"Headquarters Southern Hotel,
"Chattanooga, April 13, 1900
"Telegraph Operators, Southern Railway:

"Gentlemen and Brothers—The strike of the telegraph operators of the Southern Railway system is now on, and I see no reason why we will not win. We have right and justice on our side. The last reports show that the entire main line is tied up from Washington, D. C., to Greenville, Miss. Under no circumstances return to work until the order comes from President Powell. Pay no attention whatever to newspaper reports or the talk of officials. I will post you daily on the situation. All the organization asks is your support in this matter.

"Remember that it is your fight, that we are here in your interest and at your solicitation, and if you allow yourselves to be influenced by the officials of the company, you are not only injuring yourselves, but your families and fellow-workers as well. Stand by the organization that will always stand by you where right and justice are in the balance. Do not allow yourselves to bluffed or bullied into returning to work by any one. If a scab takes your place, pay no attention to it whatever, but bring the influence of your friends to bear and make the town too hot to hold him. Victory is sure to be ours if we only remain loyal to the Order of Railway Telegraphers."

The Union Associated Press sends out the following:

Atlanta, April 14—The situation with regard to the telegraphers' strike on the Southern Railway, shows improvement early this morning. Freight is beginning to move, and the car reports of officials here from nearly every branch of the service show things to be in better condition. The new operator at Flowery Branch, Ga., was run out of town by citizens. At Corona, Ala., Dispatcher Cox, of Columbus, Miss., was roughly handled and escorted out of the place.

Charlotte, April 14—General Passenger Agent Turk telegraphs that the strike has in no way affected the movement of traffic, and that less than ten per cent of the operators left their places yesterday and the vacancies have generally been supplied. No apprehension as to the movement of traffic need be felt, and unofficial reports to the contrary should be disregarded.

DYNAMITE FOR THE SOLDIERS.

STRIKE AT CROTON, NEW YORK, THAT IS WAXING WARM.

Women March Streets With Clubs and Men Swear They Will Never Yield Till Demands Are Met.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Croton, N. Y., April 14.—The night was made hideous by the Croton Dam strikers and by women carrying clubs and marching to the music of drums and trumpets, shouting a chorus, stopping now and then to deliver impassioned speeches. The men, who hold possession of the works, swear they won't give up till their demands are met. One hundred additional deputies arrived this morning and the sheriff has gone after the militia.

The strike looks alarming. The strikers heard of the militia coming and shouted defiance to the deputies. Many of them displayed sticks of dynamite and yelled: "This is for the soldiers," a striker captured a locomotive. They attempted to cut the bridge cable this morning. Deputies charged and a lively fight ensued in which two deputies were wounded.

BOERS HELD IN CHECK

Their Forward Movement Balked—Germans Instigated the War.

Associated Press Dispatch.

London, April 14, 4 a. m.—"The forward movement of the Boers is checked," says Lord Roberts. This is taken to mean, not by fighting, but by dispositions to head off further advance and bar their way to vulnerable points in the line of British communications. Relief is on the way to Wepener. The Boers in Natal appear incapable of developing an aggressive movement at Elandslaagte. Lord Methuen is at Zwartkopfontein, 12 miles east of Boshof, and is sending small swift columns through the adjacent country. Lord Chesham, commanding one of these, encountered a small commando about ten miles southwest of Zwarkopfontein. He found most of the farms occupied by women and children only. An editorial note in the Daily Mail avers that Mafeking is in a very bad way, and that the hope of relief is far off, as no force is advancing from the South. The war office announces that 4,000 horses will arrive at the Cape this week. It is well understood that the animals are not fit for work until about ten days after the voyage. Two thousand more are due at the Cape next week. The war office has called out the reserve companies of several infantry battalions, which will be sent to South Africa forthwith.

The Boer peace envoys have documents, the Rome correspondent of the Daily News says, showing that urgent advances to the Transvaal to wage war were originally made by Germans. This correspondent also asserts that Count Von Buelow, the German Foreign Minister, who was said to have gone on a visit to a sick brother, really went to Milan for the purpose of conferring with the delegates.

FOR THE BABIES.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

R. F. BEASLEY, - - - EDITOR

SATURDAY, APRIL 14 1900.

TODAY'S TELEGRAM.

The Telegram this afternoon prints two additional pages in order to accommodate its increase of advertising matter and at the same time not curtail the regular space for reading matter. We have been much gratified at the appreciation which has been shown of our Saturday edition. We have gone to much extra work and expense to make a specially attractive paper for our readers. But we do not count this as against the fact that the people of Greensboro appreciate the service we are giving them. The Telegram is ever modest, and hence has said little of its future plans. However, the paper was organized under its present management for the express purpose of giving Greensboro such a paper as would be worthy of so progressive and growing a city, and we shall never be satisfied till this is accomplished. In a short while we shall change to a neat and bright eight page paper. Machinery and material have been bought for this purpose. The management has set its goal at a daily paper which Greensboro people will be proud of, and with their encouragement in subscriptions and advertising, no halt will be mad till this end is accomplished. The plant and business already represent an outlay of considerable capital, which is being increased as necessity demands.

While today's issue is not quite up to the usual Saturday paper in contributed articles, there is considerable variety and much interesting reading matter.

Elsewhere we print an article from the Wilmington Messenger on Mr. Aycock, the Democratic nominee for Governor. This is a very just tribute to the character and ability of the young leader in the fight for social stability and quiet No greater choice of a leader could have been made, and to Dr. Kingsbury's warm words of praise, we add only a statement of our warm admiration.

The House of Representatives yesterday passed a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment providing for the election of senators by a direct vote of the people The frisky congressmen may be expected to be told by the Senators to attend to their own business. There is evidently a lot of budding geniuses in the House who think they are much more popular in their own States than the poky members who sit in the upper house.

The present trouble between the railroad telegraphers and the Southern is to be regretted exceedingly. Any misunderstanding between men and their employers is always unfortunate, but especially so when it goes to this extent. We have no idea which party is in the wrong, perhaps neither is wholly so. There are usually two sides. A great body of men are not likely to move thus unless they have what they consider serious grievances, and on the other hand grievances should be very serious before so advanced a step is taken. Of the principles of strikes we do not propose to speak; there can be no question of men's rights to quit work when they wish, provided no contract is broken; there can, equally, be no question of the statement that they have no right to interfere with others who wish to work. These two principles should be borne in mind in times when they are likely to be violated We do not hesitate to say that we hope that the present trouble may be settled in a way satisfactory to both parties.

TRINITY'S COMMENCEMENT MARSHALS.

Ball Team Being Put Through Rigorous Treatment -- Credit to Prof. J C Horner.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Durham, April 13.—There has been of late considerable interest in the track team, which is to represent Trinity at the Oxford meet April 20. The members of the training team went to the training table the first of the present week, and as far as the weather will allow they will be put through a rigorous training until next Thursday. Unfortunately the grippe has struck the college and a number of the track men are laid off on this account, but it is hoped that most of them will recover in time to go to Oxford. The public trials will be given next Saturday on the athletic field and to these everybody is is invited. The team will go to Oxford Friday morning, April 20, and return the same day. Special rates will be given by the railroad and the hotels. A large number of students and townspeople will likely accompany the team.

This track and field meeting representing the colleges of North Carolina is held under regulations very different from the regulations that have up till now governed inter-collegiate contests in baseball and football in the state. No man is eligible as a representative of a college in this contest, unless he has been in college since October 15, unless he has never taken part in athletics for money or valuable considerations of any kind, and unless he is a duly admitted candidate for one of the college degrees or a special or professional student of whom there has been required an amount of preparation for admission and work after admission equivalent to what is required of a student for a college degree. At the urgent insistence of one of the colleges certain very material concessions have been made for this year, and this year the requirements as to residence, scholarship and amateur standing are not altogether what they must be, if this movement for strictly amateur athletics is to be successful.

And yet the movement is in the right direction and looks toward a better day for school and college athletics. Much credit for organizing the movement is due to Prof J. C. Horner. Trinity College is doing and will continue to do all in its power to make the movement a success and it hopes that hereafter all inter-collegiate contests will be held under similar regulations. There is no reason why the movement should not be a success, if the colleges really wish it, and if college officials will make an honest and painstaking effort to have their list of entries absolutely correct and allow no student to be entered if he does not meet all the requirements.

The officers for commencement are: Chief marshal, S. W. Anderson, Wilson, N. C.; assistants, W. H. Hanes, Winston; L. H. Gibbons, Wilmington; H. F. Robinson, Goldsboro; G. G. Connelly, Morganton; J. A. Claywell, Morganton; manager, M. C. Guthrie, Southport; assistants, Fred C Odell, Concord; B. F. Dixon, Jr., Shelby; W. C. Cabel, Troy; J. C. Crowson, South Hills, and H. F. Mims, Tennessee:

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hanes, of Winston, are at the Watts Hospital with their son, W. H. Hanes, who is a student at the college. He has been sick for several days and is threatened with pneumonia.

Dr. B. F. Dixon, of Shelby, who was nominated for auditor by the recent convention is at the park on a visit to his sons.

R. L. Durham, of Gastonia, and S. J. Durham, of Bessemer City, are also at the park.

Dr. W. H. Adams, of Denver, who graduated at Trinity last year, has been appointed registrar of the college. He takes the place of Mr. D. W. Newsom, who has been appointed to a government position in Havana. Since graduation Mr. Adams has been a graduate student at the college.

TRIED TO POISON HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Craddick of Columbia, 22 Years of Age, is on Trial For Her Life.

At Columbia, S. C., yesterday, Mrs. Belle Graddick, a white woman of 23 years of age, was tried on the charge of poisoning her husband. No verdict has yet been given Graddick died February 12 h. For three days physicians had treated him for grip, though there were extraordinary symptoms. The corpse became livid and splotched. Suspicious circumstances caused an autopsy. Dr. O. Y. Owings, a chemist, after several days testing announced that the stomach contained a sufficient amount of poison to cause death.

Mrs. Craddick was arrested on suspicion as she alone gave Craddick medicine. Eldredge Dawkins, a young white man, was arrested as an accomplice, but was released after the coroner's inquest.

His whereabouts are not known now.

A negress, Mattie Fisher, testified that Mrs Graddick had a bottle from which she poured a drug into Craddick's coffee, telling the negro woman that it was to break Graddick from drinking whiskey. The bottle was found where the woman indicated, under the hearth, and contained arsenic. The negro woman testified further that when Graddick would go to work in the early morning, Dawkins, who was an inmate of the home and worked in Graddick's store, would befoul the sancity of the home. Emma Thomas, another negress, testified that Mrs. Graddick offered her fifty dollars for a dose to put Graddick to sleep. The crime in its details was revolting, rivaling the Molineux case. The bottle contained the label of a druggist in Camden, where Dawkins stayed while in the railroad service.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

We believe that Chamberlains's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see how it would affect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

A Mother's Duty is to see to it that her children begin early in life to shampoo their heads regularly once a week. In each instance, after the hair is thoroughly dry, some mild, health-giving tonic should be applied to the scalp to aid nature in creating the best possible growth of uniformly colored, lustrous, healthy hair—the most important feature in the make-up of beautiful women and handsome men. For more than fifteen years, the has stood at the apex of all shampoo washes, while the "HAIR GROWER" has been equally successful in its efforts to return the injured scalp and almost lifeless to their original healthfulness.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

Men do not like to go to doctors. Nine times out of ten they wait until they are laid flat on their backs before they will consult a physician. There is some reason in this, for when a business man feels out of sorts and goes to a physician, he is often given violent drugs that make him, for a time, unfit for business and really sick.

There is a way of avoiding both extremes—that of neglecting the health and that of taking violent drugs that rack the entire system—it is always to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If a man will resort to this great medicine whenever he feels that he is out of sorts and threatened with illness, he may keep in good health. It is the great appetite sharpener, blood-maker and flesh-builder. It fills the arteries with the rich, red, tissue building blood of health. It does not make flabby fat like cod liver oil, but the solid, muscular and nerve tissues of health. It does not make corpulent people more corpulent.

"I want to inform you of a cure effected by Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Nelson Smith, of Mount Vernon, Jefferson Co., Ills. "About six years ago I had grip, ending with bronchitis and consumption. In the spring of 1896 my condition became very serious. I had consumption and I coughed day and night; could not lie down at all. Our family doctor said I could not get well. The neighbors came in to see me die, and a lady friend recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines so strongly that we immediately sent out and bought six bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription.' After using these medicines, found I was receiving benefit and continued. I weighed 120 when I commenced taking medicines, now weigh 170. I sleep well, have a splendid appetite, feel well, and believe I am entirely cured. I am thankful to God and to Dr. Pierce for those wonderful medicines. I want to add that I am a wonder to my neighbors and friends."

Blobbs—"Don't you love the spring, when every thing is in bloom?" Slobbs. "All but the blooming idiots who rave about it."

A Little Problem in PER CENT.

You are building a house to cost, fitted up with common hardware and mantels say $2,000. Substitute fine builders hardware, hardwood mantels, handsome grates and tiles at an additional cost of say $100.00. Total cost $2100.00, or 5 per cent more than originally allowed.

Then compare the two and decide if your home, with the fine Hardware, Mantels etc., is not worth fully $2500.00 to sell, to rent or to live in. That means the increase in value is 25 per cent of the original cost, or 500 per cent of the extra cost If you don't accept our method of figuring, call to see our handsome lines and then decide for yourself.

DILLY AND THE SMALLPOX GERMS

CONSOLATION THAT A POST-MORTEM MAY AFFORD A SICK MAN.

John Wesley and the Class Meeting. A Primary Would Make Col. Carr Senator—Dr. Abernethy and His College

Correspondence of the Telegram

Martha, the colored girl who lives with us said one morning this week, that Uncle Bully Cox had come to town and had taken Dilly and her children out to his house. Dilly is his daughter and was down with the smallpox. Uncle Bully piled the entire outfit into his cart and drove straightway down the main throughfare. We thought at the time that our town officers were not very willing to prevent this procession on the main street. We have no doubt but that the old quilt in which Dilly wrapped herself had enough smallpox germs with it to kill a hundred white people, not to mention the fact that Dilly herself was full of germs. But lots of people seem to take the disease as a joke and say they had rather have it than to be vaccinated. One interesting feature connected with the malady has been the discussion of the question of compulsory vaccination by the chimney corner lawyers, many of whom remind me of the old magistrate who said: "I don't give a durn what the the Supreme Court says, I know what is law" One man who is not now in Jonesboro told me that if he was compelled to have his family vaccinated he would sue the town. It was illegal the whole thing But as old Aunt Ann McIver remarked: "They's all done been vaccinated now." This smallpox is certainly a curious thing. It don't kill anybody down here. And some time ago the doctors took a negro girl who had just recovered from the disease and vaccinated her. In a few days she had a beautiful sore on her arm. Now some of them say that if the thing was really smallpox the girl would have certainly been immune to vaccination.

Speaking of mistakes in the diagnosis of the disease I am reminded of a conversation had some time ago with a doctor. I told him that 25 doctors agreed that my heart trouble was of a certain character and many expressed surprise at my living, but that really sometimes I felt pretty well. "Well, Mr. Troy," replied the doctor, "they may all be mistaken as to the character of your maladay. I have known in many chronic cases the post-mortem to reveal the fact that every diagnosis had been a mistake, and that the diseased went off with something else." Now where did Trojan get comfort out of these remarks? The idea of a fellow having to wait for his post-mortem to find out that the doctors were mistaken in their diagnosis, is a bit of an incongruity to me—or something like that. Anyway, it is not joy.

* * * *

The primary idea takes, so writes Col Olds. Who then will be United States Senator! Here is my prognostic If the people in North Carolina express their opinion, with the numerous candidates now in the field, Gen. Carr will come out winner. He is a mighty popular man with the people—no doubt about that.

* * * *

Rutherford College is now the property of the Western North Carolina Conference. And for the existence of that old Institute, many a prominent man in the State is due education. No greater benefactor to struggling youth ever lived than Dr. Abernethy. He gave his life, his all, to help them The Methodist's will do something good with this property or I will be disappointed

* * * *

Speaking of the Methodists always reminds me of religion. And speaking of religion reminds me of the old Methodist class meeting, what has become of it anyway? John Wesley said the Methodist church could not live without this means of grace. I remember going to one thirty-five years ago. The leader was old Mr. Whaley, of Fayetteville, my first Sunday school teacher. He went around and asked all the brothers and sisters how they felt, and if they were on their way to Heaven? Most of them cried as they answered the question, but they all said they were on the way. The crying probably was for joy at the idea of getting to a better land than this. I was not a member and Mr. Whaley didn't ask me how I felt, but told me I was young and might die and be in my grave soon, and that I must be a good boy. Well, sometimes I was good, sometimes I wasn't; but Mr. Whaley never told me wrong. He still lives in Fayetteville, is in the saddle and harness business and is as good as when he led the class meeting. The Methodists now have a love feast about every three months instead of the class meeting which was held weekly, but Mr. Whaley doesn't think folks are as religious now as then, and Mr. Wesley said they wouldn't be, if the class meeting went down. Has it gone down? But I never thought that because death might come was a reason for being a Christian. Being ready to die is a small matter when compared with being ready to live. The man ready to live is always ready to die Dying is an incident, but to live right is a great idea Trojan

SERVANT FREEMASONRY

Handwriting on the Picture as Discovered by a St Louis Housekeeper

St. Louis Telegram to Chicago Times-Herald

Several St. Louis housekeepers on making their spring cleaning have discovered strong evidences of freemasonry among the servants.

Of late there has been a general disposition on the part of the servants to hang up a number of large pictures in their room On taking these pictures down several women have found inscribed various bits of information intended for succeeding cooks, nurses or girls for general housework. In some instances fashionable women have been surprised to view themselves as their servants see them.

Here are a few of the inscriptions found by one of the housekeepers the other day on her fine picture of the Angelus:

"Mrs. West Moreland is cranky and has lots of company. You are a dead one if you stay a month.

"They use a heap of coal and keep you hustling in the water.

"The more you do, the harder she is to please.

"Hours are awful in this house. You are liable to get stuck late most night. They are always eating and don't care when they get home for meals. It is worse than a restaurant.

"The people here can dirty up more dishes than a hotel.

"If you don't feed the dog regular and put straw in his kennel every night you are a goner"

Every girl who added her mite to the information for those to follow gave some excuse for departure. One was to be married. Another was going back to the farm, etc.

ROBERT HARDY'S SEVEN DAYS

A DREAM AND ITS CONSEQUENCES.

By Rev. CHARLES M. SHELDON.
Author of "In His Steps," "The Crucifixion of Philip Strong," "Malcom Kirk," Etc.

[Copyright, 1900, by Advance Publishing Co.]

CHAPTER XI.

Those words of Clara, "I shall go with you then," filled the family with dismay. Mr. Hardy bowed his head and groaned. Mrs. Hardy, almost beside herself with grief and terror, flew to the side of the girl and, with beseeching cries and caresses, tried to bring back to consciousness the mind that for a moment or two had gleamed with reason and then had gone back into the obscurity and oblivion of that mysterious condition in which it had been lying for three days, but all in vain. The eyes were closed; the form was rigid. The others, George and Will and Bess, grew pale, and Bess cried, almost for the first time since the strange week began. Robert was the first to break the grief with a quiet word. He raised his head, saying:

"I do not believe Clara is going to die when I do."

"Why, father, what makes you think that?" cried Alice.

"I don't know. I can't give any exact reason. I only know that I don't believe it will happen."

"God grant that she may be spared to us!" said Mrs. Hardy. "Oh, Robert, it is more than I can bear! Only today and tomorrow left! It can't be real. I have battled against your dream all the week. It was a dream only. I will not believe it to be anything else. You are not ill. There is no indication that you are going to die. I will not, I cannot, believe it! God is too good. And we need you now, Robert. Let us pray God for mercy."

Robert shook his head sadly, but firmly.

"No, Mary; I cannot resist an impression so strong that I cannot call it anything but a conviction of reality; that somehow, in some way, I shall be called away from you Sunday night. I have struggled against it, but it grows upon me even more firmly. God is merciful. I do not question his goodness. How much did I deserve even this week of preparation after the life I have lived? And the time will not be long before we shall all meet there. God grant that it may be an unbroken company!"

Mr. Hardy spoke as any one in his condition could. The children drew about him lovingly. Bess climbed into his lap. She laid her face against her father's face, and the strong man sobbed as he thought of all the years of neglected affection in that family circle. The rest of the evening was spent in talking over the probable future.

George, who seemed thoroughly humbled now, listened respectfully and even tearfully to his father's counsel concerning the direction of business and family matters.

The boy was going through a struggle with himself which was apparent to all in the house. Ever since his mother had seen him kneeling down in the night watch he had shown a different spirit. It remained to be seen whether he had really changed or whether he had been for the time being frightened into a little goodness.

Saturday morning found the Hardys weary with the agitation of the week, but bearing about a strange excitement which only the prospect of the father's approaching death or removal could have produced.

Robert could not realize that his week was almost at an end. Why, it seemed but yesterday that he had dreamed after the Sunday evening service!

As on every other day, he asked himself the question, "What shall I do?"

Only until he had prayed could he answer the question. Then the light came. Who says prayer is merely a form? It is going to God for wisdom and getting it. It is crying out for light, and, lo! the darkness flees. It is spreading out our troubles and our joys and our perplexities and our needs and finding God himself the best possible answer to them all.

Robert Hardy was finding this out lately, and it was the one thing that made possible to him the calmness of the last two days allotted him.

The day was spent in much the same way that the other days had been spent. He went down to his office about 10 o'clock and after coming home to lunch went down again with the intention of getting through all the business and returning home to spend the rest of the time with the family. Along toward 3 o'clock, when the routine work of the shops was disposed of, the manager felt an irresistible desire to speak to the men in his employ. They numbered about 800 in his department, and he knew how impossible it would be for him to speak to them individually. He thought a minute and then called Burns in and gave an order that made the foreman stare in the most undisguised wonder.

"Shut down the works for a little while and ask the men to get together in the big machine shop. I want to speak to them."

Burns had been astonished so often this week that, although he opened his mouth to say something, he did not seem able to pronounce the words, and after staring blankly at his employer a minute he turned and went out to execute the order.

The great engine was stopped. The men from the casting rooms and the carpenter shops and the storerooms and the repairing departments came trooping into the big machine shop and sat or leaned on the great, grim pieces of machinery, and as the shop filled the place began to take on a strange aspect never seen there before.

Mr. Hardy crossed the yard from the office, followed by the clerks and assistant officers of the road, all curious to hear what was coming. Mr. Hardy mounted one of the planers and looked about him. The air was still full of gas and smoke and that mixture of fine iron filings and oil which is characteristic of such places. The men were quiet and respectful enough. Many of them had heard the manager's speech of Thursday night at the town hall. Most of them were aware that some change had taken place in the man. It had been whispered about that he had arranged matters for the men injured in the Sunday accident so that they would not come to want in any way.

And now that grimy, hard muscled, hard featured crowd of 800 men all turned their eyes upon the figure standing very erect and pale faced on the great planer, and he in turn looked out through the blue, murky atmosphere at them with an intensity of expression which none in that audience understood. As Mr. Hardy went on with his speech they began to understand what that look meant.

"My brothers," began the manager, with a slight trembling of the syllables so new to him, "as this may be the last time I shall ever speak to you I want to say what is true to me and what I feel I owe to you. For 25 years I have carried on the work in this place without any thought of the 800 men at work in these shops except as their names were on the pay roll of the company.

"It never made any difference to me when your wives and children grew sick and died. I never knew what sort of houses you lived in except to know that in comparison with mine they must have been very crowded and uncomfortable. For all these 25 years I have been as indifferent to you as one man possibly could be to men who work for him. It has not occurred to me during this time that I could be anything else. I have been too selfish to see my relation to you and act upon it.

"Now, I do not call you in here today to apologize for 25 years of selfishness—not that alone. But I do want you to know that I have been touched by the hand of God in such a way that before it is too late I want to say to you all, 'Brothers,' and say to you that when you think of me hereafter it may be as I am now today, not as I have been in all the years past.

"It is not for me to say how far or in what manner I have trampled on the brotherhood of the race. I have called myself a Christian. I have been a member of a church. Yet I will confess here today that under the authority granted me by the company I have more than once dismissed good, honest, faithful workmen in large bodies and cut down wages unnecessarily to increase dividends, and in general I have thought of the human flesh and blood in these shops as I have thought of the iron and steel here. I confess all that and more. Whatever has been un-Christian I hope will be forgiven.

"There are many things we do to our fellow men in this world which abide—the sting of them, I mean. The impress of my selfishness is stamped on this place. It will take years to remove it. I might have been far more to you. I might have raised my voice as a Christian and an influential director of this road against the Sunday work and traffic; I never did. I might have relieved unnecessary discomfort in different departments; I refused to do it. I might have helped the cause of temperance in this town by trying to banish the saloon; instead of that I voted to license a crime and poverty and disease establishment.

"I might have used my influence and my wealth to build healthy, comfortable homes for the men who work on this road; I never raised my finger in the matter. I might have helped to make life a happier, sweeter thing to the nearly 1,000 souls in this establishment, and I went my selfish way, content with my own luxurious home and the ambition for self culture and the pride of self accomplishments. And yet there is not a man here today who isn't happier than I am.

"I wish you all, in the name of the good God, who forgives our sins for Jesus' sake, the wish of a man who looks into the other world and sees things as they really are. I do not wish you to think of my life as a Christian life. It has not been such, but as you hope to be forgiven at last forgive all wrongs at my hands.

"You are living in the dawn of a happier day for labor. There are Christian men in business in this town and some few connected with railroads who are trying to apply the principles of Christianity to the business and traffic of the world. My probable successor in these shops is such a man in spirit.

"God is love. I have forgotten that myself. I have walked through life forgetful of him. But I know today that he is drawing the nations and the world together in true sympathy. The nations that stand defiant and disobedient to God shall perish. The rulers who haughtily take God's place and oppress the people shall be destroyed. The men of power and intelligence and money who use these three great advantages merely to bless themselves and add to their own selfish pleasure and ease shall very soon be dethroned. I would give all I possess to be able to live and see a part of it come to pass. Men, brothers, some of you younger ones will live to see that day.

"Love God and obey him. Envy not the rich. They are more miserable than you sometimes dream. True happiness consists in a conscience at peace with God and a heart free from selfish desires and habits. I thank you for your attention. You will know better why I have said all this to you when you come in here to work again next Monday. My brothers, God bless you! God bless us all!"

When Robert stepped down from the planer and started toward the door, more than one black hand was thrust into his with the words, "God bless you, sir!" He felt a strange desire to weep. Never before had he felt that thrill shoot through him at the grasp of the hand of his brother man. His speech had made a profound impression on the men. Many of them did not understand the meaning of certain sentences, but the spirit of the man was unmistakable, and the men responded in a manner that touched Mr. Hardy very strongly.

He finally went into his office. The big engine started up again, and the whir and dust and clangor of the shops went on. But men bent over their work there in the gathering dusk of the winter day who felt a new heart throb at the recollection of the pale face and sincere word of the man who had broken a selfish silence of a quarter of a century to call them brothers.

Oh, Robert Hardy, what glorious opportunities you missed to love and be loved! With all your wealth you have been a very poor man all your life until now, on the next to the last day of it!

There is little need to describe the rest of this day. Robert went home. Every one greeted him tenderly. His first inquiry was for Clara. Still in that trancelike sleep. Would she never wake? The wife shuddered with fear. Mrs. Hardy had spent much of the time in prayer and tears. The evening sped by without special incident.

James Caxton came and joined the family circle. His presence reminded Mr. Hardy of the old quarrel with the young man's father. He spoke to James and said if anything should prevent his seeing his father the next day James might tell his father how completely and sincerely he wished the foolish quarrel forgotten and his own share in it forgiven.

So that day came to a close in family conference, in tears, in fear and hope and anxiety and prayer. But Mrs. Hardy would not lose all hope. It did not seem to her possible that her husband could be called away the next night.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM.

Kenna, Jackson Co., W. Va.

About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a single attack since.—A. B. THE STANDARD BEARER.

The Excellent Tribute of Dr. Kingsbury to Chas. B. Aycock.

Wilmington Messenger.

Wisdom and intelligence surely went through North Carolina hand in hand, when the conviction became widespread that the man of destiny was Charles B. Aycock, and that into his hands must be placed the broad banner of "Peace and Law and Democracy," as the chosen leader in this year of grace 1900. His nomination for governor by acclamation by the largest convention of the great party of the people that ever assembled in North Carolina, and is not only a splendid and richly united tribute to able and thoroughly finished gentleman chosen, but it is a happy augury for victory, and peace and rest.

The writer has known personally Mr. Aycock for some twenty years or more. He has been impressed with his gifts and fine character from the beginning. With the passing of the years he has grown in mental stature, and in reaching his fortieth birthday he stands forth as the equal of any man of his age in the State, and with few rivals of any age in wisdom and knowledge, in high aspirations and nobility of character, in purity of life and in faithful service in the place which God has called him. He is really a man of mark, with sound judgment, with observation and quickness of mind, with a fine sense of responsibility and much penetration, with resources he readily commands and a sincere desire to pursue the right and to bless humanity. No unmeaning words, but true! In him as we have long observed, there is a harmonious blending of many rich qualities of mind and heart, and as th outcome we have a well rounded, symmetrical character that is the admiration of his friends, and a guarantee of probity and justice and sympathy and magnanimity and virture, personal and public, in all he does a d says, to those who may not know him personally. He is a man of peace always and as the great Coleridge said of another, "because of his conscious relation to God." He may not always "possess a telescopic power of intellectual vision," but he will always strive to do just what is right and proper and honorable. He is a man of kindly, generous nature "free from gross passion," and "constant in spirit," with something of "purged judgment," and yet so manly, so modest, so admirable, garnished and decked with modest compliment."

She—"Would you die for me?" He—"Well—er---I'd rather become a widower for you"

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says, "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a most wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. It's early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it. THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE "NECESSARY" MAGAZINE

The best-informed men and women in the world use the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS to keep well informed, and call it the "necessary" and "indispensable" magazine. In the busy rush of to-day ambitious men and women must know about the important questions of the month, and not only this, they want to know about them at the right time. When the whole country is puzzled over the gigantic combination of trusts, a well-informed article is printed in the AMERICAN MONTHLY, giving the facts, and its editor discusses the theory; when the Dreyfus affair is in everyone's mouth, the best story of Dreyfus and the great case comes out in this magazine.

Every month, in "The Progress of the World," Dr. Albert Shaw gives a comprehensive picture of the world's history during the previous thirty days. In the departments, the valuable articles and books that have been published during the past month are reviewed and quoted from, so that the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY can get the gist of them. In every issue nearly a hundred pictures are printed, including the portraits of the men and women who are making the history of the month.

To be thoroughly well informed helps any man or woman in his or her work. A subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS represents an investment for the best kind of profit, as well as entertainment. One subscriber has just written: "Count me a life subscriber, and when you send me a number beyond the limit of my subscription and secure no renewal from me, consider it a notice of my death."

Price 25 cents per number, $2.50 a year.

A sample copy will be sent on receipt of ten cents in stamps.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14.
No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

CANCER IS NOT INCURABLE

Time was when Cancer was considered as incurable as leprosy. Physicians and friends could give little relief or encouragement to one afflicted with this terrible disease. Even now doctors know of no remedy for this fearful malady; while admitting it to be a blood disease, they still insist that there is no hope outside of a surgical operation, and advise you to have the Cancer cut out, but at the same time cannot assure you that it will not return. You may cut or draw out the sore, but another will come in its place, for the disease is in the blood—is deep-seated and destructive, and beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife or caustic, flesh-destroying plasters. The blood must be purified and strengthened, the system relieved of all poisonous, effete matter before the Cancer sore will heal.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can overcome this powerful and contaminating poison and force it out of the blood. It builds up and invigorates the old, and supplies new, rich, life-giving blood. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy; no mineral can be found in it; the roots and herbs from which it is made contain powerful purifying properties that act directly upon the blood system and make a safe and permanent cure of Cancer. It has cured thousands, why not you?

Cancer is not always inherited; your family may be free from any taint, yet your blood may become so polluted that a severe and stubborn form of the disease may develop from a sore or ulcer on your tongue or other part of your body; a slight bruise or hurt, a little pimple on the eyelid, lip or nose, a small lump on the jaw or breast, a harmless looking wart or mole, and other causes so insignificant as to attract little or no attention. If you have an obstinate sore, don't rely upon salves or ointments to cure it—begin with S. S. S. at once; it will cleanse your blood and prevent the formation of cancerous cells.

Impure Blood Invites Disease.

Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo., writes: "A small pimple came on my jaw about one inch below the ear on the left side of my face. At first it gave me no trouble, and I did not think it was anything serious until the jaw began to swell and became much inflamed. At the same time the sore began to spread and eat into the flesh, and gave me intense pain. I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing did me any good. I then began the use of S. S. S., and after taking several bottles the Cancer healed, and there is now no sign of the disease. This was two years ago, and I am still enjoying perfect health."

Send for our special book on Cancer; it contains much information that will interest you; it is free.

Write our physicians about your case, and for any advice or information wanted; they have made a life study of Cancer and all blood diseases. We make no charge whatever for this.

Johnston's Sarsaparilla
QUART BOTTLES.
THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA as a Blood Food and Nerve Energizer, is the greatest SPRING MEDICINE ever discovered. It comes as a rich blessing from heaven to the "worn out," the run down, the overworked and debilitated. That "tired feeling," those "sinking spells," the languor and despondency which arise from badly nourished nerves, from thin, vitiated blood and an underfed body, vanish as if by a magic spell. The weariness, lassitude and nervous prostration which accompany the spring, time and the heat of summer, are conquered and banished at once. For every form of neurasthenia, and all ailments of the brain and nerve, insomnia, hysteria and nervousness generally, it is almost a specific. It furnishes the very elements to rebuild worn-out nerve tissues. It feeds brain, nerve centers and nerves, calming and equalizing their action; it makes rich, red, honest blood. Newness of life, new hope, new strength follow its faithful use. It makes the weak strong, and the old young again.

It was the antiquated (but now happily exploded) method in the good old times, to treat Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Cancer and other troublesome disorders arising from BLOOD TAINT with powerful alteratives, such as mercury, arsenic and other mineral agents. It was expected by this treatment that the poison could be killed while the blood was left to course through its channels holding in its circulation the specific germs of the disease. But in this way, every part of the body became more or less diseased. Nothing can be more terrible than a horribly destructive blood taint. It not only attacks virulently the different structures of the body, but many times the bones are honey-combed and destroyed. It often seeks out the nerves and spinal cord, and again it will bring decay and death to some vital organ, as the kidneys, liver or stomach. There is only one scientific method for the cure of blood taint. That is, PURIFICATION! Every particle of the blood must be removed through the excretory channels, the lungs, kidneys, bowels, liver and skin. "First pure, then peaceable." The great restorative, reconstructive and vitalizer of the blood, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, not only radically and exhaustively removes the taint, but also removes all mercury, calomel and other minerals, and fills the veins and arteries with the ruby, glowing current of vitality. "The blood is the life." Good health means pure blood. The old and reliable remedy, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, is universally regarded as the greatest Blood Purifier ever discovered. This fact is now established beyond question or cavil.

ALDERMANIC DOINGS.

The Board in Regular Session Last Night—What They Did.

The board of Aldermen met in regular session last night, the mayor in the chair. All the members were present except Messrs Ellington, Merritt, Vuncanon and Wright.

Mr. N. J. McDuffie applied for permission to remove 100 feet of the old frame building on South Elm street just north of the Wakefield Hardware ware Co., erect thereon a three-story brick structure, leaving the remaining 50 feet of the frame building in the rear, repair the same for a warehouse, finishing same outside with corrugated iron and tin roofing. Granted.

The city treasurer made a report, stating that Seasongood and Mayer had paid into his hands the purchase money for the bonds recently sold. Report accepted and filed.

The street committee reported in favor of surveying and opening the proposed street through the Barnes property from Spring Garden street to the railroad, at the earliest practicable day. Report adopted and Professor Bandy instructed to make the survey.

The water committee reported that at last a report had been received from the expert employed to furnish estimates on the cost of furnishing the city with an adequate water supply, but did not advise taking definite action on said report at once. The expenditure of the money for this purpose is fraught with great responsibility and as the term of the present board expires before it could be fairly begun, to say nothing of settling the question, the report of the committee was adopted.

The building committee for the city hall reported that in as much as the specifications and plans from the architects had been so delayed the time advertised in which contractors bids are to be filed is too short and recommended an extension. The time was extended until April 27.

Mrs. Ferguson, on Buchanan street, asked permission to build an addition of two rooms in front of her frame building. As the location is in the fire limits permission was refused.

The reports of police officers, cemetery keeper and inspector of buildings were accepted and filed.

THE BATTLE ON.

Oak Ridge and the University on the Diamond.

Blue and red and blue and white streamers are floating from many lapels this afternoon, the wearers being rooters and sympathizers with Oak Ridge and the University respectively, in the game of baseball which is on at the park and which will not be finished in time to announce the result in this issue Howard is doing the twirling for Oak Ridge and Lawson is exercising his magic arm for the University. There is a good attendance at the park and both sides have enthusiastic supporters and so far as applause will aid the the players both sides will be aided.

It will be remembered that Oak Ridge won the first game and the University can ill afford to lose today. If the University wins Oak Ridge will still have another chance, but she is fighting with a determination not to take the risk. Upchurch, of Raleigh, is the umpire.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES.

QUITE ELABORATE PROGRAMS IN SOME INSTANCES.

Was it Lenten Penance or Thoughts of "What Shall I Wear" That Made the Girls So Quiet?

The only social event of interest that occurred during the week was Miss Berta Mebane's card party on Tuesday evening, an account of which has been given. This was an elegant affair and Miss Mebane fully sustained her reputation as a charming and delightful hostess. With this exception the last week of Lent has been as dull as the most devout could have wished. Is it uncharitable to the fair sex to suspect that it was not so much Lenten penance that caused this quietude, as that all their thoughts were engrossed in the momentous questions "What shall I wear?" No doubt many fervent prayers are being offered that the weather man, contrary to his custom, will send us sunshine and balmy air this Eastertide.

* * * *

The Easter music at the different churches—which is always an attractive part of the services—promises to be unusually fine

At West Market Street Methodist in lieu of the usual morning service, the exercises will be by the Sunday school. As a prelude to the interesting program consisting of songs, responsive readings, and recitations, the choir will sing Brackett's "Welcome Happy Morning." Miss Carraway, whose lovely voice always delights, will sing The Resurrection

* * * *

At night the Woman's Missionary Society will hold a twentieth century thank-offering fund service. The enjoyable exercises will consist of music, recitations, a short address, and last, but not least, a collection.

EASTERTIDE SQUIBS.

The Local Man Makes Some Brief Notes of Things.

A man named Lee Varner, wanted at Randleman for drunkenness and general disorder, was arrested here today by Policeman Jeffries.

The weatherman predicts fair weather, with light frost in this section tonight. Tomorrow, fair and warmer, with light, variable winds.

Several parties went fishing today. Easter Monday is the usual time, but for fear of rain, a few are taking advantage of the pretty weather today.

The fire departments of the city at a meeting last night, selected Fred N. Taylor for chief and W. R. Pleasants for assistant chief. These are both excellent selections and will be ratified by the board of aldermen.

Filled with energy and full of clear-cut, artistic ideas Harry Donnell is simply great when he turns himself loose on window decoration. See his last effort in the north show window at Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees.

If you see a light this evening at the southwest corner of the Southern Loan & Trust Company building, and one in the alley between the City National and Savings banks, you may consider that an invitation to call and see J. S. Ferguson, George Banks or Wiley Moore, barbers in W. & N. barber shop.

The first floor of the Vanstory Clothing Company is occupied entirely by the retail department, while upstairs there is a special department for wholesale and retail hats. There is in both departments choice lines of goods, some of the prettiest styles and shades in Easter neckwear, and some of the nobbiest hats ever shown here, are on sale for Easter. They will be open until a late hour tonight.

Mr. Browne's Easter Trip.

Several times mention has been made of Mr. Sam Browne's interest in behalf of the orphans at the Oxford asylum, the gifts made to them last Christmas through his efforts and the large donations he carries down today in the shape of shoes for the girls and overalls for the boys, eggs for all of them, together with the many other small tricks, that will gladden the hearts of the fatherless ones and make for them, perhaps, the most joyous Easter they have ever known.

Mr. Browne went down this morning to deliver the presents and make a speech to the children. They will enjoy it and he will enjoy it. It is believed by some that the trip has other attractions for Mr. Browne than the visit to the little children, and it is hinted that the boys will have the brass band at the depot to greet him Monday on his return.

Belongs in Winston.

The crazy negro locked up by Officers Jordan and Cates Thursday night, belongs in Winston. His name is Albert Meinung and he is really insane. There was some suspicion that his insanity was affected, but such is not the case. His wife wired Chief Scott last night to hold him until she got here. She came down today and carried him home. When arrested he had a bucket of salt, which he was eating, and drinking water. There were two dogs with him, and his wife's message said to hold them too.

Auction Sale of Small Farms.

Having had so many inquiries for small tracts of land in and near the city suitable for truck farms and grass lots, we have decided to have a closing out sale of the remainder of the Vanbokelin land on Thursday afternoon, April 19th., at 3 o'clock.

We will sell these tracts in sizes ranging from three to twenty acres, to the highest bidder on the following terms: One-third cash, one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months, deferred payments bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

This is sooner than we expected to have a sale, but prospective buyers want land in time to plant crops this spring. There has never been a sale of this kind here and we are going to try to meet the wants of a large class of buyers.

We have a number of choice lots left and if any one wants one on the day of the sale we can put it up, but we shall make a special effort to dispose of a large number of small farms. We hope to see a large crowd on the ground at the hour of sale. We will detain you only long enough to give you an opportunity to make a purchase in this growing city, which you will never regret.

Hacks will be on hand to take you to the sale free of charge.

Sale to commence at the bridge below Kirkpatrick's old brick yard

Next to the Consumer

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."
